

SATURDAY'S FOOT BALL

Brown Falls to Harvard,
Princeton Loses

TRINITY BEATS NORWICH

Amherst Loses to Dartmouth and U. V.
M. Loses to Cornell—Yale Runs
Up a Heavy Score in Saturday's Game.

Princeton suffered defeat Saturday at the hands of Lafayette, a very startling and sad surprise for the supporters of the Tigers. The result of this game was the sensation of the day among the foot ball teams, and next in line was the defeat of the Carlisle Indians by the university of Pittsburgh and the game between Pennsylvania State and the university of Pennsylvania. Goals from the field were very prominent all along the line Saturday. Yale smashed Colgate, and Harvard scored two touchdowns on Brown. The crimson displayed a very stiff defense when danger was near. Amherst kept Dartmouth hustling, but the latter was good enough for 12 points. Williams let the "Aggies" down hard; Bowdoin beat Holy Cross; Cornell scored Vermont and Trinity defeated Norwich. West Point proved much too big for Lehigh. The Springfield training school ran up 17 points on its Worcester "Tech" rivals. The results:

At Cambridge, Harvard 11, Brown 0.
At Amherst, Dartmouth 12, Amherst 0.
At Princeton, N. J., Lafayette 6, Princeton 0.
At Philadelphia, Pa., Pennsylvania 3, Pennsylvania State 3.
At Williamstown, Williams 33, "Aggies" 6.
At New Haven, Ct., Yale 36, Colgate 0.
At Ithaca, N. Y., Cornell 6, Vermont 0.
At West Point, N. Y., Army 18, Lehigh 0.
At Annapolis, Md., Virginia 5, Navy 0.

TWO TOUCHDOWNS.

Dartmouth's Heavy Line Aided to Beat Amherst.

Amherst, Mass., Oct. 25.—Dartmouth's heavy line up enabled her to defeat Amherst Saturday, 12 to 0, in one of the best played games seen here in years. Dartmouth scored her first touchdown in the first half after eighteen minutes of play, after Gallahan had fumbled in a kick on Amherst's nineteen-yard line. Lang got the ball and Marks made five yards through left tackle. Ingersoll got nine more through right tackle and then Marks was pushed over for the touchdown on a tandem formation. Tobin kicked the goal.

In the second half the ball was carried by Dartmouth from the middle of the field on straight line bucking. Marks again going over for the touchdown and Tobin kicking the goal. Fitts attempted a drop kick for Amherst in this half, but Daley blocked it. The brilliant playing of Marks featured the game, which ended with the ball in Dartmouth's possession on Amherst's thirty-five-yard line.

CORNELL USES FORWARD PASS.

Open Play Worked Successfully Against Vermonters.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 25.—Cornell defeated Vermont at Ithaca, N. Y., Saturday, 16 to 0, by open foot ball tactics. In spite of a drizzling rain throughout the game, the forward pass and the triple pass were used effectively and accurately. Right halfback Hoffman scored all three touchdowns for Cornell, two in the first half after forward passes, and one in the second half after four minutes of sensational play. He was able to kick only one goal. The third touchdown was the result of a triple pass. Quarterback Baker handed the ball to Hurlbut, who ran 35 yards to Vermont's 20-yard line. Hoffman carried the ball over the line from this point. Vermont was strong on line defense, holding Cornell on the one-yard line. The heavy Cornell ends were large factors in Cornell's victory. The line-up:

TRINITY WORKS PASSES WELL.

Norwich Scores Early After Recovering Fumble, But Is Beaten.

Hartford, Ct., Oct. 25.—Trinity defeated Norwich university Saturday, 13 to 3. The Norwich tally was made on a fumble in the second minute of play, when Lee recovered a fumble and went over for the line for the touchdown. Thompson missed a goal. The game was replete with fumbles, Trinity making the majority, but succeeded in covering them generally. The forward pass was worked to advantage by Trinity, with Ramsell making the needed gain whenever called upon. The outside kick was good for Norwich, who gained well with it and with a few fancy formations also. Burdick and Kelley starred for Norwich, while Ramsell, Henshaw and Howell played the best game for Trinity. The line-up:

DROP KICKS ALL FAILED

Neither Vermont 2nds nor
Goddard Scored Yesterday

FORMER WAS STRONGER

After Goddard Had Had It Much Its Own Way in First Half, Visitors Came Back Strong and Rushed Ball the Length of the Field.

The Goddard seminary foot ball eleven and a team representing the university of Vermont scored played a no-score game on the local campus Saturday afternoon. In the first few minutes of play in the second half, Vermont rushed the ball to within one foot of the goal line and the next rush would surely have resulted in a touchdown for them, but in the last rush which landed the ball almost on the goal line, Referee Libbey of Goddard said that Vermont had hurled Goddard's line and he penalized them 15 yards.

The Vermont captain, Logan, put up a vigorous kick against the decision, but the referee stuck to it and brought the ball back. The visitors then tried a forward pass but the ball was fumbled and Goddard fell on it. Moore then immediately punted for a gain of 20 yards and the ball went back to Vermont, who then tried an aside pass, which resulted in a loss of five yards. In the next rush they were penalized five yards for off sides and an end rush resulted in no gain. They then worked a forward pass for a gain of 10 yards, but this was not enough and the ball went to Goddard on downs.

Goddard then made 10 yards in two rushes and Moore then tried a forward pass, which went wild, and the ball struck the ground. This cost Goddard 15 yards penalty and Moore punted for a gain of 20 yards and Vermont got the ball on Goddard 25-yard line and at once tried to drop kick a goal, but Goddard broke through and blocked the kick, though Vermont succeeded in recovering the ball.

Goddard then held them for two downs and with only two minutes more to play the visitors tried again to drop kick the goal, but the ball flew wide of the posts. The ball was then brought in to the 25-yard line and given to Goddard who was unable to gain the necessary 10 yards and the ball went back to Vermont. On the first rush Vermont fumbled and McMurphy fell on the ball for Goddard. Moore then worked the forward pass for a gain of 15 yards just as the final whistle blew.

Though the visitors were the stronger in the last half and would have scored but for their misplays, Goddard had the advantage in the first half. They rushed the ball down to the 50-yard line, where Moore tried to drop kick a goal but failed, and the half ended with the ball near the center of the field. The line-up:

Goddard. U. V. M. 25s.

DRAIN RIVER, SEEKING HEAD.

Police Draw off Waters of Stream Running Under Hill Window.

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 25.—"Prof." Frank Hill, the herb doctor, will be brought before the lower court to-day to answer the charge of murdering Amelia St. Jean, whose body was found in fragments on the road near Tiverton. The government will ask for a continuance until Wednesday, when the whole case will be heard.

The police renewed their search Saturday afternoon for the murdered girl's head, but without result. The water of the Quequegan river, which runs through the center of the city beneath streets and factories, supplying power for various plants, was drawn off entirely on the Saturday half holiday by closing the upstream gates, so that the searchers could examine the whole bed of the stream from its source at Lake Wompat to the point where it drops into Mt. Hope bay. The office of "Prof." Hill, the herb doctor, is on Bedford street, and its rear looks out on the river, so that it would be a simple matter to dispose of any object by throwing it from a window of the office into the stream.

Is Your Family Reading "World Worth?"

So much of current reading is merely entertaining at best that the question naturally arises, is it worth while? Your sons and daughters are bound to read something. They hunger for stories which take them into the other half of the world—the world of adventure, of valor, of fortune-making. The problem is to give them such reading without putting into their hands the literature that is either silly or demoralizing. The editors of The Youth's Companion believe that a periodical can be made entertaining and yet "worldly while," and The Companion is conducted on that theory. And that is one reason why more than half a million families read it. The paper is safe, but not dull. Its tales of adventure illustrate the advantages of fortitude and self-reliance. Its stories of character lay stress on the truth that right conduct is never a mistake. Every new subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $1.75 for the new 1910 volume. Not only does he get the beautiful "Vesantian" calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold, but all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909 from the time the subscription is received. The Youth's Companion, Companion building, Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at this office.

SOCIALIST ON TRAIL FOR CZAR.

Follows Nicholas on Visit to See Italy's King.

Racine, Oct. 25.—Emperor Nicholas of Russia was the guest Saturday night of King Victor Emmanuel. He arrived here Saturday afternoon and was met by the king and a notable assembly of high officials. The two monarchs embraced and then proceeded to the royal palace, where Queen Helena, the dowager duchess of Genoa, and the Princess Letitia, surrounded by the ladies-in-waiting, received the emperor, who kissed their hands.

After a brief exchange of courtesies Emperor Nicholas withdrew to his apartments. At the king's dinner Saturday evening, at which covers were laid for 30, the emperor expressed his warmest appreciation of the reception which had been tendered him.

A special commission of generals met the emperor on the Italian frontier, and on the way to Racine the imperial train passed through a double line of 23,000 men who guarded the tracks. Four thousand troops were massed along the short road leading from the station to the castle.

Everywhere the royal guest was received with enthusiasm. He looked the picture of health and seemed thoroughly to enjoy the cheers that greeted his arrival.

His welcome by the king was exceedingly warm, and he responded with a similar show of affection. Not the slightest unpleasantness has occurred to mar the emperor's visit, but considerable anxiety is now felt because of the arrival here of the Socialist deputy, Signor Morgari, the originator of the campaign against the emperor of Russia.

Because of the fact that Signor Morgari is a member of the chamber, the police were unable to keep him out of the city. In an interview Saturday evening, however, the Socialist leader said he would avoid provoking disorders, but that he would deliver a speech of protest against the visit at a private meeting here. He will also speak at a meeting to be held at Turin.

EDDY'S TRIAL TO START

ON NOVEMBER FIRST

Rutland County Man Pleaded Not Guilty to Charge of Murdering Mary Jane Johnson at Wallingford.

Rutland, Oct. 25.—Robert Eddy, who was indicted by the September grand jury at the present term of county court for the murder of Miss Mary Jane Johnson of Wallingford, an aged recluse, was formally charged with the crime Saturday, pleading not guilty. His trial was set to open Nov. 1, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The man was taken from the house of correction, where he has been serving a sentence for furnishing liquor, to the county court house by Deputy Sheriff A. A. Leonard, and arraigned before Judge Zed S. Stanton. It had been generally believed that Eddy's counsel would raise a question as to calling two grand juries at one term as was done at this session, but the fact that the plea was made is taken to mean that the indictment will stand.

W. M. Botford of this city and Frank L. Fish of Vergennes will defend the prisoner.

GOVERNORS IN BUFFALO.

Prouty of Vermont and Quinby of New Hampshire Entertained.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Gov. George H. Prouty of Vermont and Gov. Henry B. Quinby of New Hampshire were in Buffalo for a few hours Saturday forenoon on their way to the conference at New Orleans upon waterways improvements.

The two governors were entertained at luncheon by Senator Henry W. Hill of Buffalo, who was associated with Gov. Prouty in the Lake Champlain celebration. They also went for a drive about the city.

"We are going from here to St. Louis, and then down the Mississippi by boat," said Gov. Prouty.

PLACES FOR NOBODIES.

Our Diplomatic Service Held Up as Accepting Men Not Fitted for the Posts—Need of a Trained Diplomatic Corps.

The best opportunities for nobodies in America lie in our diplomatic service. Secretary Knox has just bounced Mr. Crane, the son of a rich Mr. Crane of Chicago, but to fame unknown prior to his being selected by President Taft for the most important and responsible position in the service. There now exists a vacancy which some unheard-of person may fill to-morrow.

A curiously melancholy reflection upon the systemless manner in which America looks after her foreign affairs is the fact that it is so frequently necessary for the correspondents who "tip" a candidate for a diplomatic post to explain who the fellow is, because he has never been heard of outside of his own circle of acquaintances. We make a diplomat out of nothing in the space of six minutes. This would be perfectly satisfactory if the creator of American diplomats were omniscient and omnipotent. It is a somewhat haphazard plan of procedure, inasmuch as presidents and human and many err in making a choice between three untrained individuals, to say nothing of being totally unable to endow any one of the three with qualifications that can be acquired by experience only.

Just now two or three possible successors of Mr. Crane are being discussed. One of them, whose name does not matter because no one has heard of him before, is the son of a missionary and speaks Chinese. That, it seems, constitutes his equipment for the Chinese mission. He expresses himself as being a "passive candidate." In other words, he feels that he is the man for the place, but, like Cincinnati, he is determined not to sacrifice his dignity by seeking the paltry honor. His affronted world be amusing were it not that he is probably as well versed in the art of diplomacy as the man who will be chosen—whichever he may be—if we may judge from the discrimination displayed in the appointment of Mr. Crane, who, it seems, had a somewhat similar equipment. But the more lamentable feature of the situation is that, however sincere and discriminating the president may be, he is hoing a hard row when he sets out to find a suitable appointee. We have no system of training diplomats. The custom of the party in power has been to consult Dun and Bradstreet rather than to consider the qualifications of the individual when selecting the raw material for diplomacy.

While "shirt sleeve" diplomacy has had its victories more or less renowned, the growth of the United States, and the expansion of the foreign interests of the country are such that it is time for the establishment of a system of training diplomatic representatives up in the way they should go. If we had a trained corps in the foreign service there would be an opportunity for the president to appoint one or another of several men fitted by experience and proven ability, to fill the position at Peking, and there would be others to fill the vacancy created by the promotion. As matters stand it may be necessary to send a doctor, lawyer, merchant or political chief, without experience, and leave time to prove whether he will make a success of himself or a mess of his work at the Chinese capital.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Blot on His Past.

"Haven't you anything to confess to me before it is too late?" she asked. "Remember that it will be much better for us to part even now than it will be after to-morrow. Think. Isn't there in your past something that you have hidden from me? Don't be afraid to confess it. I will forgive you if it is not too terrible, and then we can begin our married life with no shadow to darken the pathway before us."

"Well, Beanie," he replied, as he avoided looking into her eyes, "there is something. I am going to throw myself upon your mercy. Don't judge me too severely. Have pity. I once carried on a stamp flirtation with a girl for two months."—Chicago Record-Herald.

People Will Talk You Know

And that's the reason why Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines are advertised so little now-a-days. They have made hundreds of thousands of cures in the past 40 years, and some of the grateful people whom they have restored to health are to be found almost everywhere. There's scarcely a hamlet that don't contain some. Look them up. Interview them. They are living, walking, active advertisements.

For Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines.

You can believe your neighbors. Therefore ask them. What cured them will very likely cure you, if similarly afflicted—only give them a good, fair trial.

It's a good, sound, common sense policy to use medicines only of KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which contain neither alcohol nor habit-forming drugs. The most intelligent people, and many of the most successful, conscientious physicians, follow this judicious course of action. The leading medical authorities, of all schools of medicine, endorse the ingredients composing Dr. Pierce's medicines. These are plainly printed on wrappers and attested under oath. There's no secrecy; an open publicity, square-deal policy is followed by the makers.

We have a profound desire to avoid all offense to the most delicate sensitiveness of modest women, for whom we entertain the most sincere respect and admiration. We shall not, therefore, particularize here concerning the symptoms and peculiar ailments incident to the sex for which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for more than 40 years proven such a boon. We cannot, however, do a better service to the afflicted of the gentler sex than to refer them to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great family doctor book of 1000 pages, bound in cloth and given away gratis, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps—to cover cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for paper covered book. All the delicate ailments and matters about which every woman, whether young or old, single or married, should know, but which their sense of delicacy makes them hesitate to ask even the family physician about, are made plain in this great book.
